

LAUREN

console

The arches are reminiscent of the majestic architecture of the ancient world. This seductive shape has always had a strong structural, monumental and decorative meaning at the same time.

The arch is essentially a classic and pure form that expresses our idea of evocative and timeless design.

Lauren console reminds the ancient architectural form with its succession of contiguous Carrara marble arches.

The system is supported by a folded plate in antiqued brass. The top remind an inlay of triangular elements in Eramosa marble, with alternating veins.

This piece is extremely versatile item that can be placed freely to instantly add a focal point of interest. The double-sided system makes it an elegant sculptural addition to any lobby, foyer, or hallway.

The pure repetition of the arch and the thin brass panels give it a classic and minimal allure at the same time.
